We are excited to introduce the first ever Safe Sport Activity Book

The goal of the Activity Book is to create a fun and easy way to engage kids in conversation about Safe Sport. While it is geared towards younger kids, we are finding that EVERYONE: parents, athletes and coaches alike, are enjoying it!

Let the creative juices fly all while learning what Safe Sport is all about!

How you can activate using the Activity Book...

There are many ways that you can use this tool to generate conversation about Safe Sport. Remember that kids have fun with this but so do adults!

Here are a few ideas to get you started...

1. Make the Books available when you table at a local meet. Print them off or purchase them from the national office in advance. Round up the left over crayons at your house to also give out or purchase Safe Sport crayons from us.

Print the activity book in full here or contact Paula D'Amico at pdamico@uaswimming.org to purchase from the national office.

2. Put a stack of Activity Books and crayons in the hospitality area at your meet, in the break room at the Aquatics Center or at the front desk of the pool.

People will be curious about what it is and will look through it if it is there.

3. Include single pages of the Activity Book in your meet heat sheets. Make it easy for the meet director by sending them the sheets in advance.

4. Have older kids on a team use the Activity Books to engage with the younger kids on the team. The older kids can lead by example, becoming positive role models, working together through the book, and HAVING FUN!

We look forward to seeing all the creative ways you are using the Activity Books and how much everyone is enjoying them.
